Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	Animal trainer Brandon McMillan operates a training facility known as the Lucky Dog Ranch, where his mission is to rescue hard-to-love and untrained dogs and find them homes. The show focuses on exercising responsibility and on developing a sense of appreciation for life and animals. Life lessons are an integral part of the overarching theme of rescuing these animals from death and providing a second chance for life. Following McMillan's investigations into how to retrain these animals to make them welcome members in the homes of families is both educational and inspirational - encouraging this demographic to become sensitive to our own and others' behavior and teaching how we as individuals can make a difference. This program is specifically designed to further the educational and informational needs of children, has educating and informing children as a significant purpose, and otherwise meets the definition of Core Programming as specified in the Commission's rules.

Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	Chronicling the adventures of Dr. Chris Brown, DR. CHRIS PET VET allows viewers unique insight into the life of one of the world's busiest vets and the animals that he treats. For those animals that require specialist services, Dr. Chris calls on his good friend and colleague Dr. Lisa Chimes, who works at a small animal specialist hospital. The show usually consists of three segments, following the doctor as he treats various animals that are in trouble and offering the viewer opportunities to understand the challenges a veterinarian daily faces. The series focuses on how the doctor investigates the individual problem and tries to develop solutions that on the surface would seem confounding to the viewer. As such the show not only offers a view into careers in and responsibility for taking care of pets, but also into problem solving strategies and behaviors. This program is specifically designed to further the educational and informational needs of children, has educating and informing children as a significant purpose, and otherwise meets the definition of Core Programming as specified in the Commission's rules.

Include any other comments or information you want the Commission to consider in evaluating your compliance with the Children's Television Act (or use this space for supplemental explanations). This may include information on any other noncore educational and informational programming that you aired this quarter or plan to air during the next quarter, or any existing or proposed non-broadcast efforts that will enhance the educational and informational value of such programming to children. See 47 C.F.R. Section 73.671, NOTES 2 and 3.	WDEF aired PSAs which were of benefit to the youth and adults alike during the 4th quarter of 2015. A listing of the PSAs which aired on 12.1 and 12.2 during this quarter can be found in our public file. An initiative sponsored by the station is a news segment called Whats Right with Our Schools. WDEF News Anchor John Mercer featured a segment each Monday during the 6pm newscast highlighting educators, students, individuals or community groups which worked with the students and schools in an extraordinary manner and who went above and beyond the norm in helping to educate children through life lessons. Some examples of What's Right with our Schools include programs such as students at Normal Park Museum Magnet School creating some amazing works that show off local emergency responders. Another example was two students at Dalton Middle School finding a way to help students with disabilities. The 7th graders helped create a sensory room that helps special needs students interact, and form friendships. Another partnership between school and business is exemplified thru the students at Orchard Knob Elementary School as they learn from officials from the Chattanooga Area Food Bank about fresh produce and clean drinking water. Another helpful partnership was between students of Soddy Daisy High and Unum. Unum helped the kids with their interviewing skills. WDEF and Chief Meteorologist, WDEF sponsors a program called Kidcaster where local kids and parents can go to our website and tell why their child would like to be a kidcaster. After a child is selected, they, along with their family members come to the TV station for a tour then go behind the scenes to observe a newscast as it's televised live. Then the student, along with the meteorologist assistance, prepare and tape a forecast for the next day. The segment airs during our 11pm news that evening and again the next morning during our morning news. Each child receives a personalized Kidcaster Certificate and a DVD of their on air kidcaster weather report. This quarter we had children from various schools including Dade County Elementary, Normal Park Upper School, New Hope Middle, Stone Creek Elementary, Signal Mtn., Middle and Red Bank Middle School. Weather-in-the Classroom was presented by Meteorologist, Patrick Core. He gave a weather presentation to students at Gilbert Elementary in Lafayette, Ga, several combined grades at Lakesite Academy and Ringgold Middle School. The video presentation included how weather forecasts are determined, a look at various cloud formations,safety tips of followed by a question and answer session with the students. Over 330 students viewed the presentation. WDEF also sponsored the Salvation Army Angel Tree during the holiday season. Viewers were asked to go by area malls, pick you a paper angel which included children/seniors in need sizes, then purchase gifts and return them to the Angel Tree at the malls. At the conclusion of the Angel Tree drive, 4577 angels received Christmas gift thru this program..
